Who we are
Who is providing this notice?	The First Bank and Trust Company
What we do
How does First Bank and Trust Company protect my personal information?	To protect your personal financial information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer security safeguards and secured files and buildings.
How does First Bank and Trust Company collect my personal information?	 We collect your personal information, for example, when you: open an account or apply for a loan. show your government issued ID or provide account information. use your credit or debit card or make deposits or withdrawals from your account. We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.
Why can't I limit all sharing?	 Federal law gives you the right to limit only: Sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes – information about your credit worthiness. Affiliates from using your information to market to you. Sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you. State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.
What happens when I limit sharing for an account I hold jointly with someone else?	Your choices will apply to everyone on your account – unless you tell us otherwise.
